VTP London

15 July 2014

VTP Global are furthering their plans to create one of London's leading entertainment and tourist destinations in the Capital's most exciting regeneration district, Stratford.

Development Director, Chris Hunt commented: "With the centre of London moving east through regeneration and the Olympic legacy, Stratford has become the ideal location for VTP Global to site a tower in the Capital. In conjunction with our advisors Grant Thornton Corporate Finance we are in detailed discussions with the Local Planning Authority, the GLA and a major overseas investment group regarding a prime site in the centre of Stratford close to Westfield Shopping Centre and the Olympic Park.

Our proposals are for a 150 meter landmark tower with a world class ride and activity mix, cafés, restaurants and other leisure facilities, which will provide a beacon for Stratford and an icon for London."

Grant Thornton Partner Jeremy Toone said: "VTP London, and in particular Stratford with its unrivalled transport infrastructure and forthcoming Crossrail in 2018, represents an exceptional investment opportunity delivered by a highly experienced management team."
